

Philadelphia Works Welcomes Ed Krawczyk to its Board of Directors

Philadelphia Works, The City of Philadelphia's local Workforce Development Board (WDB), has a 25-member Board of Directors that serves as an advisory, planning, and policy board under the guidelines of the federal Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act \(WIOA\) of 2014. In addition, the Board of Directors also serves as the governing body of the 501(c)(3).

Membership of the Board is composed of business, education, labor, community, and government leaders. Members are appointed by the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia and membership is guided by WIOA. The Board Chair must be a business representative, and the Board must have a majority of business/private sector members. This assures that the business community is a leading voice in our local workforce system.

Ed Krawczyk is the Administrator at the International Association of Heat and Frost Insulators and Allied Workers JAC (LU14) Training Center and serves as the union's Recording Secretary. Ed began his career with Local 14 as an apprentice in 2000 and completed his apprenticeship training in 2004. He has worked as a journeyman and foreman on various industrial, pharmaceutical, and commercial construction projects in the Philadelphia area. In 2019 Ed was appointed as the Administrator of the IAHFIAW JAC (LU14) Training Center.

Ed is a certified OSHA instructor. He is also certified by the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry and New Jersey Department of Health and Senior Services as an Asbestos Abatement Instructor.

Ed volunteers his personal time with several charitable events and causes such as the Local 14 Annual Mesothelioma Fund, which benefits Mesothelioma research at Fox Chase Cancer Center, Local 14/St. Christopher Hospital Toys for Tots Drive, the Just Fight Foundation, which benefits local boys and girls with pediatric brain injuries, and the #IronDad 23 Foundation, which benefits local boys and girls in the Souderton School District with a better opportunity to participate in local sports.

Philadelphia Works, Inc., the city's workforce development board, is a non-profit, quasi-public organization serving employers and connecting career seekers to employment and training opportunities. We invest public resources in a variety of workforce solutions that drive economic growth, influence the public workforce policies, and optimize funding and resources to build a skilled and thriving workforce. For more information, please visit philaworks.org.